FHA Financing Non-Farm Business

Many farmers have talents and skills to operate nonfarm enterprises but have failed to do so due to a lack of adequate financing. This has been found to be true when discussing credit needs with farm families applying for farm ownership loans.

It is now possible for many farmers to supplement their farm income and increase their family income by financing non-farm enterprises through the Farmers Home Administration. This will enable many low income farmers to further develop their talents and skills. Any legitimate business enterprise may be established, improved or enlarged on the farm if there is a demand for it and the farmer is able to manage it in conjunction with his farming operation.

The number of business enterprises that could be developed on the farm to supplement the farm income is as limitless as one's imagination and may be developed if found to be sound and profitable. Farm ownership-nonfarm enterprise loans may be made for many different enterprises including the following: Repair Shop (auto, farm machinery, small engines, radio-TV, appliances, etc.), Shops (antique, barber, beauty, upholstery, furniture, etc.), Sales and Service (hand-scaping, accounting, fish bait, fire wood, custom storage and moving, trailer, parks, etc.), and Recreation Oriented (fishing and hunting, camp grounds, cabins, horse stables, vacation sites, etc.).

Loans for the purchase, improvement and development of real estate are repayable at 5% interest over periods up to 40 years and are available to applicants unable to obtain sufficient credit elsewhere at reasonable rates and terms.

Deadline Nears For Purchase Of New Licenses

Probate Judge James L. Sawyer reminded county business that the deadline for purchasing state and county privilege license is Friday.

Sawyer noted that if a business license was purchased after the deadline state law requires the Probate Judge to assess penalty.

Questions and Answers

Q. I will be getting married this month. Since I will be protected as the wife of a worker covered by social security, why do I have to contribute?

A. When you are ready to retire, you might qualify for higher cash benefits based on your own eligibility and earnings record. During your working years, you and your children could receive disability benefits based on your work record. And, if you should die while your children are still young, they could receive monthly survivors benefits based on your record.

Q. I am retired and receive monthly social security benefits. I am planning to spend next year visiting my children, who are scattered all over the country. What should I do about getting my benefit checks?

A. We suggest you visit your Post Office and arrange for the checks to be forwarded. It would be best to settle on one or two addresses that will be most convenient for you, rather than try to change your address every month or so. If you later decide to move permanently, notify social security of your new address.

Q. I work in a day care center operated by my church. Since my work is not covered under social security, I do not pay contributions to the program. Can I voluntarily pay into social security so I will be able to get monthly benefits at 62?

A. No. You cannot voluntarily contribute to social security to build up credit toward benefits. There is a way for employees of non-profit religious organizations to get social security coverage. For full details, contact any social security office.

Have a question about social security and its retirement, survivors, disability or Medicare benefits? See your telephone directory for the phone number and address of the nearest social security office.

Over 150 million social security numbers have been issued since 1896.

Reasonable Timetable Is Industry's Answer To Pollution Control

"Industry will spend $1.6 billion this year on new water pollution control facilities plus hundreds of millions of dollars worth of water pollution facilities already in place," according to Dr. J. William Haun, vice president and director of engineering, General Mills, Inc.

Dr. Haun, who testified on behalf of the National Association of Manufacturers before a Congressional committee considering the imposition of national water control standards, said that "the greatest practical gains in industrial pollution control have come about through cooperation between industrial companies and regulatory officials in working out effective programs based upon reasonable timetables."

The momentum of pollution control has been achieved under the Water Quality Act of 1965 should not be interrupted by "a flurry of new and unwarranted legislation," the NAM witness said.

Rather than national standards, he advocated regional effluent standards.

Commissioners Announce Building Plans

The Coffee County Commissioners announced approval has already been received by the regional office in Huntsville, Alabama, for the construction of a new building on the site of the late Mrs. J. B. Moore for $750 per acre.

Offices planned for the new complex are Extension Service (county agent), Soil Conservation Office, Farmers Home Administration, ASCS office, Veterans Service Office, Fish and Game Commission, County Engineer, Impact Program. Approval has already been received by the regional office in Huntsville, Alabama, for the construction of a new building on the site of the late Mrs. J. B. Moore for $750 per acre.

The buildings will be located on a 38 acre tract of land in New Brockton. It is across the highway from the National Guard Armory and is being purchased from the estate of the late Mrs. J. B. Moore for $750 per acre.

Also to be included would be a Farm Center Complex with a seating capacity of approximately 2,000 to be co-located at the site. This would include a 60 x 120 foot arena with dirt floor for holding cattle shows.

Representative of the news media and heads of the offices involved were present at the called meeting of the commission. The department heads present were asked to comment on the project.

Extension chairman Tom Casaday called it "a dream come true." FHA director Bill Ray noted that the present blueprint did not give his department enough room (the designers quickly went to work and changed that).

Judge Sawyer noted that the county is currently paying $440 rent on space for the offices in this plan and is not located in either of the courthouses and still in many cases, there is not enough room for them to complete their jobs efficiently.

Judge Sawyer answered criticism of the secrecy surrounding the planning of the project with "If we had publicized our plans prematurely special interest groups would have located the location and the actual design until we couldn't have completed it by the October 31 deadline issued by the government." He continued with, "We have no desire to withhold actions of this body from the people of Coffee County. Any county money we spend is their money and we hope to spend it in a way that will better serve the most people and this plan appears to be fairest to everyone."

Police Chief Jack Smart reminded local citizens of the annual used toy drive being conducted by the police department again this year. Smart said the time was drawing close for ending the receipt of toys to be repaired. These toys are repaired by Ft. Rucker personnel and returned to the community for distribution to needy children by the police department.

There will be a Halloween Carnival at the Elba Elementary School tonight (Thursday). The activities will start at 5 p.m. and last until 8, according to Mrs. Betty Dorsey, chairman of the event.

Children will be offered fish pond, floating ducks, refreshments, bean bag, bowling, country store with flea market (your junk - someone's treasure), cake walk, house of horrors, hay ride, fire truck ride and fortune telling.

Enterprise man dies accidentally

Army Lt. Col. Wallace (Wally) Baker, 40, was killed accidentally Monday while clearing land on his farm north of Enterprise, a member of the family reported.

The officer, who was attending Troy State College and working toward his master's degree, was clearing land with a large rotary type mower pulled behind a tractor when the tractor apparently hit a stump and overturned.

His body was found about 4 p.m. by Dwight Adams, who lives near the Baker property, according to the man's relatives.

Col. Baker had been in the army 21 years and had two tours of duty in Vietnam and came here in January 1970 from Washington, D.C.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Felicia Morrow Baker of Enterprise; three sons, Mike, Grant and Steven Baker, also of Enterprise; two stepchildren, Jenny Metcalf and Stephen Metcalf, his mother, Mrs. Howard Baker, Berkeley, Calif.; and a sister, Mrs. Earl Barnes of Grandland, Neb.

Commissioners Announce Building Plans

The Coffee County Commissioners announced Monday of this week the plans to construct a half million dollar office complex in New Brockton. The building will be financed partially by a $350,000 grant from the federal government. Final approval of the grant will be received from Washington on or about December 1.

This special grant is unusually high or has made a sudden jump, as in Coffee County.

The buildings will be located on a 38 acre tract of land in New Brockton. It is across the highway from the National Guard Armory and is being purchased from the estate of the late Mrs. J. B. Moore for $750 per acre.

Offices planned for the new complex are Extension Service (county agent) Soil Conservation office, Farmers Home Administration, ASCS office, Veterans Service Office, Fish and Game Commission, County Engineer, Forestry Division and others. Also to be included would be a Farm Center Complex with a seating capacity of approximately 2,000 to be co-located at the site. This would include a 60 x 120 foot arena with dirt floor for holding cattle shows.

Representative of the news media and heads of the offices involved were present at the called meeting of the commission. The department heads present were asked to comment on the project.

Extension chairman Tom Casaday called it "a dream come true." FFA director Bill Ray noted that the present blueprint did not give his department enough room (the designers quickly went to work and changed that).

Judge Sawyer noted that the county is currently paying $440 rent on space for the offices in this plan which are not located in either of the courthouses and still in many cases, there is not enough room for them to complete their jobs efficiently.

Mr. Oakes also noted that sales and earnings of the plastic container division, which was acquired late in 1970, are included in results for 1971 but not for 1970.

For the third quarter, sales reached $25,306,000 as compared with $24,000,000 for the same period a year ago. Net earnings for the period were $240,000 or $3.30 per share on a fully diluted basis, compared with $190,000 or $3.35 per share.

Mr. Oakes also noted that sales and earnings of the plastic container division, which was acquired late in 1970, are included in results for 1971 but not for 1970.

FHA Financing Non-Farm Business

Many farmers have talents and skills to operate nonfarm enterprises but have failed to do so due to a lack of adequate financing. This has been found to be true when discussing credit needs with farm families applying for farm ownership loans.

It is now possible for many farmers to supplement their farm income and increase their family income by financing nonfarm enterprises through the Farmers Home Administration. This will enable many low income farmers to further develop their talents and skills. Any legitimate business enterprise may be established, improved or enlarged on the farm if there is a demand for it and the farmer is able to manage it in conjunction with his farming operation.

The number of business enterprises that could be developed on the farm to supplement the farm income is as limitless as one's imagination and may be developed if found to be sound and profitable. Farm ownership-nonfarm enterprise loans may be made for many different enterprises including the following: Repair Shops (auto, farm machinery, small engines, etc.), Shops (antique, barber, beauty, upholstery, furniture, etc.), Sales and Service (landscaping, accounting, fish bait, fire wood, custom storage and moving, trailer parks, etc.), and Recreation (oriented fishing and hunting, camp grounds, cabins, horse stables, vacation sites, etc.).

Loans for the purchase, improvement and development of real estate are repayable at 5% interest over periods up to 40 years and are available to applicants unable to obtain sufficient credit elsewhere at reasonable rates and terms.

Commissioners Announce Building Plans

The Coffee County Commissioners announced Monday of this week the plans to construct a half million dollar office complex in New Brockton. The building will be financed partially by a $350,000 grant from the federal government. Final approval of the grant will be received from Washington on or about December 1.

This special grant is unusually high or has made a sudden jump, as in Coffee County.

The buildings will be located on a 38 acre tract of land in New Brockton. It is across the highway from the National Guard Armory and is being purchased from the estate of the late Mrs. J. B. Moore for $750 per acre.

Offices planned for the new complex are Extension Service (county agent) Soil Conservation office, Farmers Home Administration, ASCS office, Veterans Service Office, Fish and Game Commission, County Engineer, Forestry Division and others.

Also to be included would be a Farm Center Complex with a seating capacity of approximately 2,000 to be co-located at the site. This would include a 60 x 120 foot arena with dirt floor for holding cattle shows.

Representative of the news media and heads of the offices involved were present at the called meeting of the commission. The department heads present were asked to comment on the project.

Extension chairman Tom Casaday called it "a dream come true." FFA director Bill Ray noted that the present blueprint did not give his department enough room (the designers quickly went to work and changed that).

Judge Sawyer noted that the county is currently paying $440 rent on space for the offices in this plan which are not located in either of the courthouses and still in many cases, there is not enough room for them to complete their jobs efficiently.

We, at New Hope Junior High School, believe public education is an essential part of our culture. Since general business, bookkeeping, business arithmetic one semester and greatest number of American students for the longest time, it is our belief that the student should be taught, in an organized manner, those things which are necessary for a peaceful, productive, and happy life in a democratic society.

the long period ahead, we have great opportunities in expanding livestock production. This includes hogs, beef cattle, and broilers.

I am always concerned about the poor use many Coffee County landowners are making of their land. We have thousands and thousands of acres that are not producing income. It is easier said than done, but every acre should be either in trees or pasture land or crop land.

TELEVISION PROGRAM

Several Coffee County leaders and 4-H Club members will appear on the "Auburn Today" program October 30. This is the show that Phil Snow of WWSA-TV in Montgomery handles each week. Some of the 4-H'ers planning to go with us to help with the program are Alice Brunson, Melanie Carnley, Ann Martin, Phillip Morrow, Connie Carpenter and Nickie Sexton. Leaders being invited to attend are Mrs. Kathryn Poole leader of the Elba Action 4-H Club, Mrs. Donald Ober, leader of the 4-H District Club in Enterprise, Major and Mrs. Maurice Reed, leaders of the Shining Blues 4-H Club at Ft. Rucker and Extension agents Myrna Rhodes and Dan Presley.

NEW CLUB

The Elba Action Junior 4-H Club has just been organized to serve more of the young people in Elba. This club is being sponsored by the Sr. Elba Action Club. This group of boys and girls in Elba have a great program going. They plan their program months ahead. The program committee contacted me a few days ago and asked me to provide the program in March. The president of the new club is Connie Carpenter. They are being helped in their local organization by Melanie Carnley, Alice Brunson, Hildreth Cooper, Angie Bedsole and Courtney Cantrell.

When thinking about these 4-H'ers and what they are doing, I am reminded of a statement made by former Probate Judge J. O. English. He said, "Young people in Coffee County who participate in the 4-H Club program and other youth clubs don't get into nearly as much trouble."

HUNTING SAFETY

Hundreds of Coffee County young people and older folks, too, will be hunting in the weeks and months ahead. I have always talked gun safety, several years ago, we had safety demonstrations as part of the 4-H Club program each year. This year I am more sensitive about hunting safety than usual. My oldest son, Tommy, has gotten a new shotgun and this is his first experience in handling a gun. I am going to try to teach him as much as possible about safety. I think the most important rule is to always treat a gun as if it were loaded. The other night when he first got the gun, he pointed it at people in a careless way. When I cautioned him about it, he remarked that it was not loaded. Of course, I have got to impress on him to never point it at anything he does not intend to shoot. We have a list giving 14 safety rules in hunting. We will be glad to mail you a copy if you will let us know.

FIRE SAFETY

Most folks don't worry about fires. However, last year over 12,000 people were killed in fires. One-third of these children. Thousands of fire victims who were not killed are still recovering from serious injuries. These are high costs to pay for negligence or ignorance. Fortunately, in Coffee County most of the people are fire safety conscious. Just recently a campaign has ended drawing attention to Fire Safety Week. Not too much was said about rural fires. The best way to keep these under control is to notify forest ranger G. M. Drewery when you plan to do some burning. In addition, fire lanes should be kept in good shape. It doesn't do a bit of good to have a good fire lane completely covered up with leaves and straw. We are approaching the time when fall fires normally occur. Let's be on guard.

WISH I'D SAID THAT

Discipline is essential for every child to learn but the lesson requires a wise teacher.

Azalea Garden Club Meeting

The Azalea Garden Club held its October meeting at the home of Mrs. F. H. Murphree with Mrs. Fred Clark serving as co-hostess. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Price Ringo. She led members in repeating the Club Collect. The roll was called and minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. J. M. Kimmey. The minutes were approved as read.

Mrs. Ringo then presented Mr. Tom Dyess, city clerk, who discussed the city having a "Clean-Up Campaign". He asked the club to join with other civic organizations to help with the project. The Ant-Litter committee, Mrs. James Wise, Jr., and Mrs. J. M. Kimmey were asked to represent the club in this effort.

During the business session Mrs. Bob Cannon reported to the Home Economics Building and the High School. She urged members to also write.

Mrs. Sam Rowe announced the Yard-of-the-Month Award for September went to Mrs. James Wise, Sr., and for October to Mr. and Mrs. Doug Martin.

Mrs. Duke Tatum read groups to be responsible for seasonal arrangements to be on display at the November luncheon. The luncheon will be held at the Elba Country Club with the Magnolia Garden Club as guests, on November the tenth.

Mrs. Oliver Williams, past president gave an interesting report of the District Meeting in Headland.

Mrs. Price Ringo, Mrs. Baxter Bryan and Mrs. Robert Cannon also went.

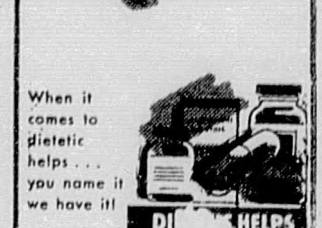

Mrs. Duke Tatum presented Mrs. Oliver Williams who gave a most interesting and informative discussion on "Dried Arrangements." Illustrating her discussion were many examples of her arrangements. Because of their beauty, Mrs. Williams was requested to show them at the November luncheon.

Future Life Style Centers Around Eating

One of the most interesting predictions that has been made about our future life style centers around our eating habits, says Dr. Billy Powell, Extension food scientist.

Students of "life styles" predict that by 1980 our eating habits will be greatly changed because of higher incomes, better education and increased family travel.

Eating will be less conventional and rigid with families eating five snacks a day instead of three meals notes the specialist. And over 70 percent of all meals will be eaten away from home.

Powell adds that when dining at home, the home-maker will demand more convenience in her food items for meal preparation. Freeze drying, radiation cooking, computer shopping - menu planning, pre-cooked meats and edible packages will play an important role in the food industry in the near future.

Change In Provisions For Loans

The only change in the loan provisions for the 1971 corn crop is that loan rates will be in only those areas where corn is produced instead of the entire state where it's produced.

The change is to encourage the corn grower to turn into the principal summing areas, adds the specialist. It provides farmers an added option in management with no penalty imposed if they choose storage closer to market outlets.

The loan rate for the 1971 corn crop in all Alabama counties will be $1.20 per bushel, the same as for 1970. The rate is based on a national average loan level of $1.08 per bushel for number two corn.

Maddox says that premiums and discounts will be unchanged from those in effect for the past several years.
